Summative Performance Task Argument: Next, students will prioritize the responsibilities of local leaders by putting them in order of importance. Have students defend their answers. This will take some guidance, but with questioning and scaffolding, students will be able to tell you what they think is most important and why they think that.

Explanation: [How do city leaders help me?] Construct an argument to answer the compelling question using

	evidence from sources to support your claim. (arguments can be in the form of posters, brochures, picture with sentences, etc.)
	Sentence starter: A city leader has a lot of responsibilities. For example, Another example is
	When city leaders carry out their duties, it helps me by (A student might write about one responsibility of a mayor and one of a city council member. Answers may vary. To describe how city leaders help me when they carry out their duties, a student might write: by keeping me safe and working to meet my needs. Again, answers will vary.)
	 Extension: Using knowledge gained in this lesson, choose one of the following writing prompts: If I were mayor If I was on city council If I were a local leader
	The students should also draw a picture of themselves in the position they are writing about.
	Use knowledge of your students to choose the prompt that works best for them.
	(This could be a page added to the activity book.)
Taking Informed Action	Act: Create a video about the daily life of a local leader in your city. The class should work together to create a list of questions to ask the local leader about what their daily schedule looks like and how it helps others.
